President's Message.

The Maryville College Y. M. C. A., founded in 1877, is one of the oldest college Y. M. C. A.'s in the world. For nine college quadrenniums it has efficiently served the interests of the young men of Maryville College. The Y. W. C. A. was organized in 1884, and reorganized in 1888, and since the latter date has rendered an uninterrupted invaluable contribution to the welfare of the young women of the institution.

The President and the Faculty of the College are exceedingly appreciative of the fidelity manifested by the officers and members of these noble organizations in the past; and cordially desire for the associations in the future the united and enthusiastic co-operation of all the young people in attendance upon the institution. May these time-honored associations have the privilege of so mustering and drilling all the Christian students of all the classes and departments and societies of the College, that all our Maryville men and women may fight well in this world-wide war in which our Lord goes forth "a kingly crown to gain."

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

Maryville College was among the first in the United States to have a college Y. M. C. A. Three students first talked of the plan and then with seventeen others they met in the college chapel on March 2, 1877, and organized themselves into an association.

For twenty years after those twenty men formed the organization there was no Y. M. C. A. building, but by the faithful and strenuous efforts of loyal students a building was completed in 1897, where the Association is now so well located.

THE OBJECT

of the Association is to unite the Christian students of the College in order to strengthen their own Christian lives and to extend the cause of Christ among their fellow students.

MEMBERSHIP

TheAssociation is composed of active and associate members. The active membership consists of men of the College, either students or members of the Faculty, who are members in good standing of an evangelical church. Only active members have the right to vote in any meeting, or to hold office. Any man in College of good moral character may become an associate member.

Until the past year a fee of one dollar and a half per year was attached to membership in the Association, but with the beginning of the year 1912-13 no fee was charged, but pledges taken for free will offering from those becoming members. The pledge was not made a matter of compulsion, but in very few cases was no pledge made and at the end of the year the Association was able to report a more than doubled membership, amounting to one hundred and eighty-five, and an increased financial income. So well did the experiment work that it has become a settled policy of the Association.

INVITATION

All students who are in sympathy with the aims and methods of the Association are very cordially invited to unite with it and to join in its work immediately upon entering college. It will help you and help the Association, too.

BARTLETT HALL

Few, if any, College Associations in the South are better situated than our Y. M. C. A. is in this building. It is an ornament to the campus and of the greatest value to the men. It contains an excellent auditorium, a reading room with the best magazines and newspapers on its tables, and a library of three hundred volumes of valuable books for reading and for reference, a game room, office for the secretary and a good gymnasium. It has also athletic dressing rooms, with lockers, shower and needle baths, and bowling alleys.

The building has electric lights and steam heat. It is for the members. This should become your second home while you are at college.

MEETINGS

The devotional meetings of the Association to which all members of the College are cordially invited, are held each Sunday afternoon in Bartlett Hall, at 1:15 o'clock, lasting from forty-five minutes to one hour. These meetings are usually led by students. They are men's meetings and are very helpful to college men whether they be Christian men or not. Frequently college professors, pastors and business men give addresses which are always enjoyed and are helpful.

BIBLE STUDY

The Bible Study of the Association will be conducted on the "Gray System" this year. The object of our course is to enlist men in daily devotional Bible study. The men meet together on Sundays with a student leader and discuss the work in the most helpful way. No student who seeks a liberal education or desires to fit himself for a life of service in the Master's cause can afford to miss taking some of our Bible study work.

The following courses will be offered and others may be offered later: "Social Significance of the Teachings of Jesus," "Men of the Old Testament," "Life of St. Paul."

MISSIONS

The Association recognizes that no one can consider himself well read who has not some knowledge of the actual conditions existing in foreign countries. For this reason Mission study classes are organized on almost the same plan as the Bible study. Through these classes it is possible for the men of the College to come to a fuller appreciation of the extent of the missionary enterprise, and the significance of the work being done by men and women who have given themselves unselfishly to this great work of the church.

SOUTHERN STUDENTS' CONFERENCE.

In June of each year the representatives of the Christian Associations of the Southern Colleges meet for a ten days' conference at Black Mountain, North Carolina. Inspiring addresses by leaders in work for young men, Bible and Mission study classes conducted with special reference to training men to lead the college groups, and helpful discussions on all phases of the Association work make this conference an invaluable aid to the College Y. M. C. A. The afternoons are devoted to recreation and ample opportunity is given to consult with the representatives of the International Committee and other speakers regarding the special problems of the local association. Maryville always sends large delegations to this conference and the men who go receive great benefit themselves and on their return add greatly to the effectiveness of the Y. M. C. A. in Maryville College.

THE MARYVILLE SUMMER CONFERENCE

The home association conducts a conference each summer during the week preceding the opening of college. It is held at Sheep-Pen Cave on the bluffs of the Tennessee River, nine miles from Maryville. About twenty men usually attend this conference, camping on the high bluffs of the beautiful river. It is a week of genuine out-of-door sport, rowing, swimming, fishing; a week of Christian fellowship with the leaders in college; a week of most valuable preparation for the year's work. Professors, pastors, and traveling and local secretaries visit the camp and make helpful addresses and enjoy camp life with the fellows. Students coming to the college for the first time will be cordially welcomed at the camp. Come early and spend a day or two with the fellows and get this splendid introduction to college life, and catch the spirit of Maryville.

A. has procured for girls, libraries placed in the reading rooms at Baldwin Hall and Pearsons Hall. Carefully selected books and papers for Sabbath, magazines and secular papers and quite a number of books for week-day reading.

Its Fees

Just 50 cents a year.
What you get from it, if you go into it with a will, can not be bought with gold or silver.

The Southern Students' Conference

The Summer Conference of the Young Women's Christian Association has been held at Asheville, N. C., for the past few years. This year the conference will be held in the early part of June at Black Mountain, N. C., fifteen miles north of Asheville. Here are found the new Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. buildings. This conference consists of representatives from all the women's colleges and co-educational institutions in the South, together with the leaders of the Association work in different parts of the United States.

The purpose of this conference is to deepen the spiritual life of the girls in our Southern colleges and to lead them out into definite Christian service.

Our Association is always represented at this conference, three or more girls going every year.

Give us your help in this work of the Young Women's Christian Association. We want you.

Its Bible Study Course

An exceptional opportunity of attending Bible Study classes is offered to the girls. The past year we had four Bible study classes, "Life of St. Paul," "The Miracles and Parables of Jesus," "Message of the Prophets," and a Teachers' Training Class. Some similar courses will be given this year. Come and get help from these classes and increase our numbers.

Its Mission Study Course

During the year several Mission Study classes are in progress. In these classes are studied, as texts, some of the latest and best Mission Study books, and great interest is shown in this study. Plans are being made for at least ten Mission study classes for this year.

Join one of the classes and you will become interested in missions, thus help yourself and the Association in this great work.

Among the many useful organizations on College Hill the Student Volunteer Band is by no means of least importance. It is an organization of young people who intend to be foreign missionaries and whose watchword is the evangelization of the world in this generation.

The band meets every two weeks. At these meetings programs are rendered, to which spice is often added by the talks from missionaries home on furlough or by letters from the field. A hearty invitation is extended to everyone to meet with the band in its room in Voorhees Chapel.

Society Hall, third floor Anderson Hall.

Senior Section meets 6:30 o'clock each Friday evening.

Junior Section meets 6:30 o'clock each Saturday evening.

Each young man in college should join one of these societies, for they furnish a very important part of any college man's training. There are no fraternities in the college, and these societies furnish the warm fellowship of the Hill, as well as the literary training.

LADIES'

Bainonian

The Bainonian Literary Society was founded in 1875 and has been gaining ever since. It has always stood for the highest and best literary work. To be a member of the Bainonian means to have an opportunity for training in speaking before an audience, for drill in parliamentary ruling, and for social intercourse with your fellow students. Every girl who reads this is invited to listen to our opening program in Bainonian Hall in September. It will be worth attending. Come and see for yourself.

Theta Epsilon

The Theta Epsilon Literary Society offers an excellent opportunity to all new girls who are desirous of developing their literary ability. It is a society where every member is asked to take active part in the society work, which includes music, reading, orations, original poems and stories, essays and debates.

Our book of programs for the year shows our literary standing. A hearty invitation is given to all new girls to join the "Eloquent Daughters" who meet in their society hall in Pearsons on Friday evening at 6:30.

The literary society constitutes an important part of each girl's college life and no one should fail to connect herself with one of the societies.

ADELPHIC UNION

The four literary societies of the college compose this organization. The Adelphic Union banquet and entertainment are two of the most important and enjoyable social events of Commencement Week.
